AMERICAN LEAGUE BATTERS. Delehanty Still Leading by a Good

Margin. Unless Napoleon Lajote comes fast at the close of the season he is going to lose his crown as king of the American League sluggers. Ed Delehanty of the Senators now has a lead of twenty points on the big Frenchman, and he is holding it well. Pat Dougherty of Boston has slipped into third place, but the real honors belong to Lave Cross. Thirty-two men are batting .300 or better-eight more than that are going that pace in the National. Lave Cross has made the most hits, while Dave Fultz has scored the most runs and stolen the most bases. The base stealing record made by Davy Jones while a member of the Browns has not been equaled, though Maloney's record in the National is almost as good. Davy, however, stole six bases in fifteen games, while Maloney got only five in the same number of games in the National.

JOLLY FAT MEN WON.

Elizabeth Elks Defeated in Good Game by Score of 11 to 6. Leading Events. The game of base ball at the American League Park yesterday afternoon between the Jolly Fat Men's Club of this city and the Elks of Elizabeth, N. J., was witnessed by a crowd that filled nearly every seat in the grand stand. Rooters for both teams were there in force, and when either side got into the game in creditable style there was a deafening blare of tin horns that shook the rafters of the grand stand. The Jolly Fat Men were too much for their heavy weight opponents from New Jersey, and the score at the close of the ninth inning stood 11 to 6 in favor of the local players.

Kauffman, an old National League player. was the first man to wield the bat for the visitors, but his little fly to second base failed to secure him the first bag. Malone found a ball to his liking and pounded out a two-base hit, and scored on Bick's sacrifice after stealing third. Hayes was put out on a short grounder, and the side was retired with one run to its credit. Lyster, former National League pitcher, went in the box for the visitors at the opening of the game, and the Jolly Fat Men slammed the ball through the atmosphere for four runs in the first time at bat. Neligan was then put in the box and until the seventh inning he pitched good ball, allowing only two runs, but in the seventh the locals connected with the leather for several hits which netted them five runs. The Elks made two scores in the second and one each in the third, seventh and ninth, when the run getting was ended, the locals having their half of the ninth inning yet to play.
Wahler, who occupied the rubber for the Fat Men, pitched a good game, striking out four men and giving no passes to first. Each team was credited with nine hits, and Gates of the locals made a home run. Four errors were chalked up against the Elks, while the Fat Men had six marked down to them.

The line-up of the teams was as follows:

SHEEPSHEAD BAY RACES.

Gunfire, at 15 to 1, Captured the Twin

City Handicap. The Whitney and Duryea families were fortune's favorites at the Sheepshead Bay track yesterday. W. C. Whitney won the event of the day, the Twin City handican. while "Mr. Roslyn" (Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney and Mrs. H. B. Duryea) won the second race with his recent purchase, Alsono. Thirty thousand persons cheered

The Twin City handicap is the greatest autumn event for all-aged horses at a mile and a quarter. Its intrinsic value is not great, but the honor of winning it is.

Thirteen animals of high class, among the lot being Advance Guard, the best horse over a cup course in this country, lined up at the barrier. The fine quality of the contestants made the race an open one, and speculation was brisk from the opening to the close of the betting. There was a great plunge on Blues that made him post favor-

Mr. Pettingill was again unfortunate in his attempt to get the field off on even terms. Half of the horses, those near the outer rail particularly, received such a start that they were practically left. Those next the rail fared better. They secured a big advantage and had the contest between them all the way.

Gunfire paved the way for her ultimate success by lashing out with her heels and severely kicking two dangerous rivals— Whiskey King and Francesco.

Whiskey King secured such a big advan-tage at the start that the race appeared to be assured to him. He led by a big streak of daylight until the last furlong. There he collapsed so suddenly that he was swal-lowed up by the flying field, and he failed to secure any part of the money.

Gunfire, who had been running third to the stretch, then moved up quickly, and, taking command with a rush, won by a length and a half from Blues. The latter secured a good start, was prominent throughout the early stages of the contest, but sulked a quarter of a mile from the finish. Near the end he again resumed run-ning at his best clip, and in the last fifty yards passed Hyphen, who appeared to have an excellent chance to secure first money, at the head of the stretch. won easily by J. Hartford Meet.

was the feature of the racing which opened the Charter Oak grand circuit meet at Hartford, Conn., yesterday. A field of eight starters in this race was simmered down to three in the final heat. Gail Hamilton took first money. It was a great race, heartbreaking finishes characterizing a majority of the heats. John Mo was the favorite in betting, selling for $100, with Gail Hamilton $50, Wig Wag $35 and the field $25.

John Mc. and Gail Hamilton fought it ought, and the battle between these two colts was a royal one. It took six fatiguing heats for the young colts to settle the ques-tion of supremacy, the Pennsylvania horse

The $1,500 purse in this race was divided, the three leading horses in each heat dividing $500. About 8,000 people were in attendance. A light air from the southwest blew down the homestretch. Foot Races, Sack Races, Base Ball and Other Features-The Celebration a Success.

There was an unusual amount of merriment down the river yesterday afternoon and evening at the Labor day celebrations of the two central labor organizations of the District of Columbia, and it was a tired but happy crowd that came back upon the late steamers which brought the excursionists back to the city. A great many of the several thousands of people had been at the resorts since early morning, but, notwithstanding the fatigue entailed, nearly all felt that they had been amply repaid for any inconveniences endured by the trip, and no doubt will be on hand next year to participate in similar affairs.

Nearly 6,000 people were the guests of the Central Labor Union at the celebration at River View, and races, athletic contests, dancing and other amusements made up the program there. The sports began promptly at 1 o'clock in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. In the first event, a 100-yard foot race, there were twelve contestants for the prizes. The race was hot-ly contested from the start, but W. Cornish crossed the line first, with W. Cook a close second. The prizes were a silk umbrella and a box of cigars, respectively. The 100-yard race for boys resulted in victory for F. McVey, who received a fountain pen, and C. Dean was awarded a belt as second prize. The most amusing event on the program, it was conceded, was the sack race. Each of the seven contestants had the lower half of his body encased in a gunny sack tied securely about the waist. a gunny sack tied securely about the waist. At the word "go" five of the participants decided on the "kangaroo jump" as the quickest method of covering the course, and their antics afforded much amusement. One of the contestants started to run as though his lower limbs were unrestrained by the sack, and a few strides in that style resulted in standing him on his ear along the course. The seventh man in the race, W. Cook, had evidently "been there before," and he started off with a short "Lady Bountiful" stride that proved to be a winner, and he crossed the tape several yards in front of the other runners. MIDDLE STATES REGATTA.

Splendid Showing of the Arundels of Baltimore.

The Arundel Boat Club of Baltimore showed the mettle of its men yesterday by winning doubly the four-oared gig race in the thirteenth annual regatta of the Middle States Regatta Association on the Harlem river New York.

The Baltimore boys won first in their junior form, and then in the intermediate, going from the maiden class to the higher one, and winning both in one afternoon. The training of James A. Ten Eyck had put the boys where they were, and they surprised the crowd by their fine work.

Louis Scholes, the Toronto Rowing Club crack, was beaten to a standstill by Frank Vesselly of the Bohemia Boating Club. It was the most surprising incident of an excellent day's sport, and hundreds of dollars changed hands on the result.

The water was in fair condition for rowstraightaway.

In junior eight-oared shells the race was comparatively easy for the Dauntless Row-ing Club of New York, and, with the wind and tide in their favor, they broke the mile and tide in their favor, they broke the mile record for the course, rowing the mile in 4.23%. Crowley, a sculler from Worcester, Mass., won the junior singles in a style which showed that he is likely to be heard

The senior four-oared shell event was a stirring contest with four crews—Bohemian and Nassau of New York, Pennsylvania Barge of Philadelphia and Institute of Newark, N. J. The last-named crew soon fell back, but the others kept well together, first one ahead and then another, the Quakers finally winning by half a length.

Another great surprise was the winning of the senior eight-oared shells by the Dauntless Rowing Club of New York, who and were never headed, winning by a length and a half. They thus carried off the honors by winning junior and senior events ered a new pitching phenom in Wyatt Lee after the twirler's great work in two innings Sunday at Detroit, and decided to send him in against the Tigers yesterday afternoon. Lee had plenty of speed, but his curves were small and not at all deeptive. The Detroits had been waiting for just such a pitcher, and proceeded to bat Lee almost at will. When the nine innings had been finished the base-hit column registered eighteen for a total of twenty-one sacks, and the Senators were of course defeated, the score being 13 to 1. Lee has been playing the field almost all season, and is doubtless out of form, his work Sunday being effective, doubtless, on account of his speed coming late in the game. He is a splendld fleider, and with a little more batting strength would be a wonder.

Only five hits could be made, and of this number Jack Doyle captured two. Keister, Ely and Drill were the other fortunates. These hits were so well scattered that no

All the brilliant fielding in the game was done by the Detroits, all the chances offered to Washington being easy. Lepine made a wonderful catch of Ely's fly in right field, the ball being captured shoe-high, and as a result Coughlin was doubled at second.

fourth, and a quartet of tallies were made. For three innings the Tigers rested, but in the eighth they went to work again, and another trio of runs resulted, making the total 13, very unlucky—for Washington. Following is the score:
